MEETING AGENDA

Final conference COMPOSE

4th – 6th September 2019 KGZS

Kmetijsko gozdarski Zavod Maribor, Slovenia

	Tuesday, 3.9.2019 – Arrival
19:30	Welcome dinner in Hotel City
	Wednesday, 4.9.2019 - Partners meeting Venue: Agricultural and forestry Institute Maribor, Vinarska 14, 2000 Maribor
9:30	Registration of participants
10:00	Welcome speech and agenda overview • Veronika Valentar, project LP • Stanka Klemenčič Kosi, project LP
10:15	A review of WP's realized activities, reported by WPL • Stanka Klemenčič Kosi WP1: Reporting and final stage of the project • Veronika Valentar WP2: Communication and dissemination activities
11:00	Coffee break
11:15	A review of WP's realized activities, reported by WPL • Sergio Andreis WP5: Status and to do/ • Activities until the end of the project completion of the project according to WP1, 2 and 5 (MoU, Brussels - 10/19) • Stavroula Tournaki WP3: Indicators and lessons learned (1st part: presentation of a web tool; 2nd part: approach and achievements) • Virginia Domingo Reig: WP4: Positive effects and lessons learned
14:00	Lunch break at the Institute
15:00 16:00	COMPOSE project - collected impressions with a questionnaire Follow - up projects /World café, hosted by Zdravko Kozinc
16:30	Wrap up of 1st day
	17:30 Departure from the City Hotel to the countryside of Maribor, the touristic viewpoint Dreisiebner heart Dinner at the family tourist farm Jarc in Svečina

	Thursday, 5.9.2019 – Final conference Venue: Hotel City hall, Ulica kneza Koclja 22, 2000 Maribor
9:30	Registration
10:00	Welcome speeches Stavroula Tournaki: Short presentation of the project The conference is moderated by Tadeja Vodovnik Plevnik
10: 30	Strategic trends in energetics, development opportunities and financing: How can energy-related strategic documents impact the environment? - Moderator Sergio Andreis – Kyoto Club Panelists: - Zoran Kordić, Green Energy Cooperative, Croatia - Dr. Ivan Žagar, Mayor of Municipality of Slovenska Bistrica, Slovenia - Dr. Photoula Hadjipapa, Mayor of municipality Lakatamia, Cyprus
11:15	Coffee break
11:30	Energy literacy- a key competences for the future - Moderator prof. dr. Lučka Kajfež Bogataj Panelists: - Maire- Maud Gerard, GERES, France - Dr. Stane Klemenčič, Chamber of agriculture and forestry of Slovenia - Prof. dr. Fatbardh Sallaku, University of Tirana, Albania
12: 00	Coffee break
12:15	Good practices in energy management and their impact on the local environment - Moderator Zdravko Kozinc, Zavod ISKRIVA Panelists: - Prof. Theocaris Tsoutsos, TUC, Crete, Greece - Virginia Domingo Reig, City council Granollers, Catalonia - Barbara Leao de Cervalho, Co- Founder and director Biovilla Nature park, Portugal
13:00	Lunch break at the Hotel City
14:30	Conclusions of the panel session by Lučka Kajfež Bogataj, Sergio Andreis and Zdravko Kozinc

16:30	Summary and final thoughts, prof. Lučka Kajfež Bogataj
17:00	Poster session
19:30	Dinner in the Hotel City
	Friday, 6.9.2019 - Organized study tour Venue: Centre of Maribor & Pohorje
8:30 9:30	Walk through the centre of Maribor Presentation of the first electric street light in this part of Europe
10:00 11:00	Faculty of Electrical Engineering and computer science Maribor Presentation of energy self- sufficient solar system The purpose is to show the dimensioning of solar power system, connected with power saving battery. The monitoring system enable monitoring and comparison between produced/consumed energy, based on hourly database of produced and consumed power.
11:30	Departure from the centre of Maribor Tour of good practices on Pohorje Pohorje is one of the most natural areas in Slovenia and in central Europe. As the only silicate based mountain region in Slovenia, it is important from the geomorphological, hydrological, biological and from cultural point of view. The purpose is to present the importance of forests in relationship with climate changes. Rare plant and animal species in combination with tourism is nowadays the most important challenge for Maribor and its surroundings.
13:00	Lunch on the Pohorje

Prof. Lučka Kajfež Bogataj is a university professor, climatologist, member of the United Nation's Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC), co-winner of the Nobel Peace Prize and ambassador of COMPOSE project. In Slovenia she is noun as one of the pioneers in the field of climate changes research and their impacts on agriculture production.

Sergio Andreis is a director of lobbying organization Kyoto club with the headquarter in Rome. After studying at the faculties of philosophy in California and in Milan, he upgraded his skills in Berlin. As a member of European Greens he was elected to the Lombardy Regional Parliament, Italian federal parliament and later to the European Parliament. Kyoto club cooperates in numerous of environmental initiatives and international working groups, including acceptation of Kyoto protocol and endorsing the goals of Paris agreement.

Dr. Photoula Hadjipapa is the mayor of Municipality Lakatamia on southern part of Cyprus. She is a first female mayor in Cyprus, who was elected with majority comprised to two men anti-candidates. She has worked as a medicine doctor for 18 years. Among others she is leading projects related to environment and climate changes in Municipality of Lakatamia.

Dr. Ivan Žagar is the mayor of Municipality Slovenska Bistrica. In past period he was a minister for Local government and regional policy. He leads the Slovenian delegation to the Committee of the regions and is a member of the board of the EU Committee of the Regions. Invited by European Commission, he has drowned up several expert opinions. Since 2013 he has chaired the Development Council of the Cohesion Region for Eastern Slovenia and is actively involved in preparation and adoption of strategic EU documents.

Zoran Kordić is the co- founder and a member of Green energy cooperative (GEC), established in 2013. The aim of the GEC is to provide service for development, investing and using of renewable energy sources. In cooperation with municipality Križevci, GEC started to implement joint-venture investments in renewable energy sources, called »solar roofs of Križevci« to set milestones in the field of investments to renewable sources in Croatia.

Marie Maud Gerard is the energy advisor at the GERES. Since 12 years, she has been working in the field of environmental engineering and the problem of energy poverty in the French province Alpes Cote'd Azur. She worked in many national and international projects in southern France and in the Mediterranean regions, especially in Morocco, Tunisia and Algeria.

Dr. Stane Klemenčič is a director of the Chamber of agriculture and forestry of Slovenia- Institution of agriculture and forestry Maribor. He holds a PhD in agricultural science. Through his many years of work in the field of agricultural advising, he has collaborating and contributed to the development of Slovenian agriculture and rural areas.

Prof. Fatbardh Sallaku is a lecturer at the Agricultural University in Tirana, where he works in department for environment and agroecology. His research tackles fields of water, soils and environment as well as renewable energy sources. He collaborates in many national and international projects and by implementing of EU policies in EU associated states.

Prof. Theocaris Tsoutsos is a head of Renewable and Sustainable Energy Systems Lab (ReSEL) and is a university professor at the Technical University Crete (TUC). As a scientist is an author and co- author of numerous of research publications. He works in many international projects in the field of renewable energies

Virginia Domingo Reig works in energy and environmental service by the city council of Granollers in Catalonia. She graduated environmental engineering and innovation management. She is involved in many international projects, where she works as an advisor, implementing awareness rising campaigns as well as the practical implementation of RES and EE measures.

Dr. Barbara Leao de Cervalho is a director of Natura park Biovilla in Portugal. In the frame of COMPOSE, they bought some equipment and established a living lab. The pilot living lab uses solar energy for drying food, cooking and producing electricity. She managed to established the Biovilla brand and cares for its promotion and marketing.

Zdravko Kozinc is a COMPOSE project co-worker, co- founder of ISKRIVA institute. Political economist, a sincere interviewee, who excels all possible situations: especially in managing international projects, coordinating project teams and communicating with the public.